Dr. Milt's Topical Magnesium Therapy (TMT) is vitally important for the canine system, yet the benefits are hardly known. Magnesium is an important mineral for a dog's body to function properly. TMT is a great source of Magnesium and helps increase oxygen delivery and blood flow to the muscle and soft tissue. TMT consists of all natural ingredients that promote muscle strength, endurance and relaxation.

Dr. Milt's TMT is available in a Spray and Gel. Used daily, TMT has displayed amazing results in treating swollen soft tissue by reducing swelling, reducing muscle soreness and joint discomfort. This unique formula helps the canine body recover faster from injuries by increasing blood flow and enhancing curative therapy.

Magnesium is one of the most neglected minerals in canine feeds. Many types of natural grains used in dog food are typically deficient in magnesium due to fast growth rate and mineral deficient soil. Utilizing TMT as a topical rub or spray in a daily health regimen may have dramatic performance effect and increase overall vigor.

TMT when applied directly improves blood supply and a cooling analgesic effect to the area of injury or soreness due to stress, travel and competition. Transdermal magnesium is a highly efficient way to deliver magnesium directly to the muscle and ligaments, as it bypasses the digestive system all together and can be absorbed by soft tissues more rapidly.
